OUR POTASH SUPPLY

T. ROSENBERGER, MINING MAN,
SAYS THAT POTASH IS TO BE SUPPLIED FROM CEMENT

T. H. Rosenberger, 147 North Brand boulevard, who is a mining man of some standing and large experience, says that the search for a supply of potash which will make this country independent of Germany in that respect, has succeeded so far that potash is now being produced from cement. The cement plants all over the country are now turning their attention to this production of potash as a means of vastly increasing their yearly income.

According to Mr. Rosenberger the Riverside-Portland Cement Company has already applied the process of extracting potash from the cement dust, which hitherto has been such a nuisance that they were able to add to their profits during the past few months a sum of $80,000. This example is to be followed all over the land and before long the cement mills will be turning out so great a quantity of potash that there will be no lack of a native supply of potash. There will be sufficient to supply all the fertilizer the country needs and also to furnish the ammunition makers with what they require.

This is an enormous step in advance. "There is," says Mr. Rosenberger, "a large supply of potash in the giant kelp of the Pacific Coast, but it can only be a side production. The great supply of potash will undoubtedly come from the cement plants of the country, and the United States will never again be at the mercy of a foreign war in the matter of its potash supply."

"The potash is produced from the cement dust by means of electric precipitation. Formerly the cement works had to purchase large areas of land in order to avoid lawsuits for destruction of vegetation. Now they will avoid this completely by utilizing the dust for producing potash. The new Cottrell process eliminates all the former destructive agency of the cement."

"As to the other possible supplies of potash, it may be said that the country cannot have too many sources of supply of this most valuable salt and that every encouragement should be given to enterprises such as that of the American Trona Company, which has been endeavoring to extract potash from the salt deposits to Searles Lake. This company has been working for a long time on the undoubtedly rich deposits of the lake and has actually shipped out some of its potash for commercial purposes. However, it is said that the process has been exceedingly expensive and that it has been found very difficult to separate the potash salts from the sodium chloride and other salts that are found in the brine of Searles Lake."

"I believe that the salts of Searles Lake will yet be found available and that they can be worked at a profit when the proper method of working them has been found. The American Trona Company has spent about $4,000,000 in working that lake and it would be a very fine thing for the diligent and faithful believers in the profits to be made from its contents if they were all at once to discover an easy and certain and inexpensive method of extracting the potash. Until that time comes, however, I believe the country must put its faith in the cement deposits and cement works."

LITERARY SECTION

Those who were detained from the Literary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club Tuesday, missed a treat, for it is seldom we have three such excellent papers, the same meeting.

Customs of the early settlers, from history of the people of the United States, by John Bach McMaster, was the subject of Mrs. A. L. Weaver's paper and was cleverly handled and very interesting, taking us back to the quaint times of the 17th century.

The Book, "The Rise of the American People," by Ro'and G. Usher, was divided into two periods. Mrs. George Adams had the first period, taking us through the stirring Revolutionary times down to the Civil War, and Mrs. I. H. Durfee's paper was from that time on to our present day. Both papers were excellent and showed careful preparation.

COCKNEY PLAY UPON NAMES

Two officers went into a cafe at Saloniki and said: "We want some Turkey without Greece." The waiter said, "I'm sorry, but we cannot serve." The officers then said, "Send for the Bos-phor-us." The boss came and said, "We don't want any Crimea. You cannot Roumania." So they went Hungary.

CALLS A PASTOR

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH
CALLS REV. C. A. COLE
OF ST. LOUIS

The congregation of Central Christian Church of Glendale, through its Committee of Elders, has called to its pastorate, Rev. C. A. Cole of St. Louis.

Mr. Cole has been pastor of the Compton Heights Church of Christ in St. Louis for four years and has done a splendid work there. That church is desirous of retaining him for another year at increased salary, but he desires to be near his parents, who are getting old, and his brother, who lives in Glendale, and for that reason is willing to take this work at a smaller salary than he is receiving.

There is every reason to think that Mr. Cole will be a splendid addition to the ministry of this city and will speedily build up the work of his church to a point where an adequate new building, comparable to those of the other denominations of Glendale, will be a necessity. The congregation owns a frontage of 100 feet on Colorado street at Louise, a location which is excelled by none in the city. They have been without a pastor for nearly three months, since the resignation of Rev. E. E. Francis, who is preparing himself for missionary work in Latin America. The new minister is expected to begin his work about January 1.

BIRDHOUSE CONTEST

Boys, and girls, too, are reminded that November 23 is the last day on which birdhouses may be entered for competition. Sixteen splendid prizes have been offered by Glendale men and women, glad to encourage our young people.

These prizes include such desirable gifts as tennis racquets, base ball mitts and balls, tool box, etc. In addition to the possibility of winning a good prize, competitors may also earn good pocket money, as many people have promised to buy birdhouses for their own home grounds. Even Los Angeles people are coming out to buy the birdhouses made by Glendale girls and boys. Young people are advised not to make only one but several houses each; they can exhibit as many as they make.

Any boy could make two or three between now and the end of the month. They can be made at home as well as at school; and perhaps the home birdhouses would take less time than those made in school, as one would not have to be so terribly particular about the corners, etc.

The Garden Society is trying to secure some place where the birdhouses can be on exhibition for a couple of days during the first week in December. The winning houses will be marked as such—and every birdhouse to be sold will bear plainly the price desired for it. Probably every birdhouse up for sale will be purchased before the close of the first day. So now, boys and girls, get busy. This will be the first time on the Pacific Coast that birdhouses will be exhibited in quantity. The novel idea is arousing great interest; and lots of people will be admiring your handiwork. Get busy.

DRYS ARE IN DOUBT

A report at 1 o'clock today from California Dry headquarters in Los Angeles said the count of votes has not yet been completed, but the success of the drys is greatly in doubt.

DEATH OF HARRY WILSON

Harry Wilson, 310 East First street, passed away this morning at 11 o'clock at the age of 49 years. Mr. Wilson was born in Ohio, but had lived in Glendale for the past six years. Funeral arrangements, which have not been completed, are in charge of the Pulliam Undertaking company.

MUSIC SECTION TO MEET

Ethel Graham Lynde, instructress in music at the Ebell club, Los Angeles, whose programs of last season met with so great success, will be instructress for the music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club this season.

Members please come prepared to pay dues. The music section is open to all club members.

HUGHES LEADS IN WEST VIRGINIA

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE HAS SMALL MARGIN WITH 490 PRECINCTS TO HEAR FROM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WHEELING, Va., Nov. 9.—This State has a voting electorate of nearly 300,000 yet the margin between the candidates is very small. With 490 precincts to be heard from this morning Hughes had a lead of 441. Both parties are claiming that they have won, and a very few votes may divide the candidates. It is believed, however, that the State will be carried by Hughes.

WILSON STILL LEADS IN CALIFORNIA

HUGHES SUPPORTERS HAVE NOT YET GIVEN UP HOPE—
400 PRECINCTS TO BE HEARD FROM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—California's vote is still in the balance though the end is coming very near. It is expected that by 2 p.m. there will be news that will settle the question as to whether Hughes or Wilson is elected. In San Francisco Wilson had a lead of about 16,000. Sacramento and the mountain counties were for Wilson. With 400 precincts to be heard from the returns showed shortly before noon 440,261 votes for Wilson and 435,865 for Hughes.

HUGHES TAKES THE LEAD IN MINNESOTA

FEW HUNDRED VOTES DIVIDES THE TWO CANDIDATES IN IMPORTANT STATE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 9.—Charles E. Hughes jumped into the lead in this State as the count proceeded this morning. It is the closest race the State has ever known. The returns at daybreak showed Hughes had 164,746 and Wilson 163,958 votes. This result was from 2534 precincts out of 3024. Faribault, which is usually strongly Republican, gave Hughes a majority of 803. The small margin may yet lead to a dispute.

WILSON WITHIN TEN ELECTORAL VOTES

HUGHES MUST GAIN TWENTY-THREE VOTES IF HE IS TO BE NEXT PRESIDENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—President Wilson is within ten electoral votes of re-election. Hughes must gain twenty-three votes if he is to obtain a majority. The following are the outstanding features of the present situation: Wilson has already 256 votes in the electoral college and the returns from California alone or from Minnesota alone may elect him President.

MARGIN IN NORTH DAKOTA IS CLOSE

HUGHES HAS SLIGHT LEAD WITH ONLY FEW PRECINCTS
TO BE RETURNED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—North Dakota this morning showed that Hughes had a slight lead over Wilson. The two are running neck and neck. At one time Wilson had a lead of 119. It is still either candidate's race. More than two-thirds of the vote is now in.

HUGHES CUTS WILSON'S LEAD IN CALIFORNIA

HOPES OF REPUBLICANS REST ON LOS ANGELES AND THE SOUTH GENERALLY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The Republican party in California is now resting its hopes on Los Angeles and the southern end of the State. According to the reports received by the United Press Association, Hughes cut Wilson's lead in the State this morning by 2362. The State is in the balance and may be the deciding factor in this unprecedented contest.

RUSSIANS COME TO RESCUE OF ROUMANIANS

SLAVS RUSH HEAVY FORCES TO ENGAGE AUSTRO-GER-MAN ARMY AT VARIOUS POINTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PETROGRAD, Nov. 9.—Russian forces dispatched to Roumania are heavily engaging the Austro-German troops under Von Falkenhayn at various points along the front. On the junction of the Russian and Roumanian frontier there is very fierce fighting going on. The Russians have attacked the Falkenhayn forces with great success on the Transylvanian frontier. In the Dobrudja the Russo-Roumanians are pressing back Von Mackensen's army.

AT GLENDALE HIGH

BASKETBALL TEAM WINS PRACTICE GAME—PLAN SPANISH CLUB FETE

Glendale was victor in the first basketball game of the year, played against Burbank yesterday. Coach Wight expressed himself after the game as very favorably impressed with the showing made by the boys. He feels confident that he will be able to turn out a championship team for Glendale high this year.

The game, a practice affair, was replete with thrills. As a full dozen men were given a trial, fresh material was being added all the time, giving the home team an advantage that the hay-slingers could not overcome. The final score was 24-17.

The meeting of the Spanish club, which was scheduled for next Friday evening, has been postponed until a later date. The committees on games, refreshments, etc., however, are going ahead with plans which will insure everyone a good time when the party is held.

Politics still held an important place at the school yesterday. Wilsonites wore smiles. Hughesites were busy explaining, and would not concede that Wilson had it. Mr. Howe thought so too.

CHAPTER L., P.E.O.

Chapter L., P.E.O. held its regular meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. H. Temple, Orange street. There was a very large attendance. The meeting was an all-day affair. The State president, Mrs. Laura Joyce, was present and gave a most interesting talk on the "Educational Activities of the P.E.O." She explained that the P.E.O. was educating a number of girls in various colleges and universities throughout the country. Fourteen girls, she said, were being educated in California through the efforts of the society. The society was at present engaged in raising $40,000 for this educational fund. Thirty thousand dollars had already been raised and it was going to be easy to raise the rest. Chapter L. contributed $40 at this meeting for this purpose.

Mrs. Walter Stamps and Mrs. Freeman Kelley were visitors from Chapter B.A. of Glendale. Mrs. Gardiner, president of Chapter E of Los Angeles was also present and spoke interestingly on the work of the society. The house was beautifully decorated with carnations and ferns. A sumptuous three-course luncheon was served.

HIT BY A BICYCLE

J. A. Killgore, No. 1607 Vine street, was painfully injured by being hit by a bicycle as he had stepped off the Glendale car at Sixth and Main streets, Los Angeles. When he got off the car Mr. Killgore looked each way along the street to see if the way was clear when he was run into by a bicycle ridden by a negro, who smashed into him at full speed. The impact threw Mr. Killgore on the ground and inflicted on him painful injuries about the face and head. Dazed and bleeding he was assisted by some people who ultimately saw him back on the car for Glendale. Nothing further was heard of the negro. Mr. Killgore is considerably better now, though the shock he sustained was considerable.

FUNERAL NOTICE

Funeral services for Mr. Melvin Lewis Rice, formerly of Moore avenue, Tropic, who passed away in Banning, Cal., Monday, November 6, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of the Scovern-Letton-Frey Undertaking company in Tropic. Rev. C. Maiman, Episcopal rector from Hemet, Cal., a friend of the family, conducted the service. Interment was in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Mr. Rice is survived by his wife his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Rice of 764 South Central avenue, Glendale, and a sister, Mrs. D. B. Pin-gree, 107 North Jackson street, Glendale. The deceased had recently gone to Banning in hopes that the change of climate would be beneficial to his health.

HOME JEWELRY BUSINESS EXPANDING

C. E. Peck of No. 1010 West Broadway wishes to introduce to the public Mr. J. A. Grant, watchmaker and jeweler, who has recently become identified with the Peck store. Mr. Grant is an experienced watchmaker and jeweler with European experience and has worked for the past six years in large Los Angeles jewelry establishments.

CIVIC CENTER PLANNED

CASA VERDUGO CITIZENS DIS-CUSS CIVIC CENTER—ATH-LETIC CLUB ACTIVE

Enthusiasm marked a mass meeting held last evening in the auditorium of the Central avenue school, at which a civic center for North Glendale was discussed.

Mrs. I. R. Kurtz, who presided, stated that a body of young men known as the Foothill Athletic club had started the movement by asking for the use of the school premises for their organization. The club was present in a body. Mr. Dimmick, in an introductory speech, told of the need for boys' clubs, and made a strong appeal for action.

Dr. Eckles spoke of the relationship of the school to the community. The people, he said, had made an investment in the school, and this investment should be called upon to return dividends for more than a few short hours of the day. He declared himself in favor of the civic center.

Mrs. Charles H. Toll said that the young men formed a valuable asset to the community, which owed them the things they were asking. She spoke very enthusiastically on the subject.

After the stamp of approval had been placed on the move by these prominent citizens, the chairman asked the boys to express their views and define their ideas. Some surprising bursts of oratory resulted. Merle Eckles, club president, declared that the organization had been started with a determination, and that the boys intended to make it a success. He expressed his appreciation of the large group of interested adults present. Allan Houdy-shel also appealed for the assistance of the parents. John Sharpe declared the club would take the fellows away from the cigar stands.

Mr. H. H. Faries, a member of the club, praised the efforts of the boys, and urged the dads to become members of the club, and chums of the boys.

Just what could be done and what could not be done under the law was pointed out by Mr. Richardson D. White. He first declared the recreation center to be an absolute necessity. He said that he saw no reason, if the school is made a recreation center, why it should not be open to such clubs as the Foothills Athletic club. He read from the educational code of the state, which provides for the use of school properties for civic centers.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson moved that a committee be appointed to take the question up with the school board. The motion carried, and the meeting adjourned.

Numerous attempts have been made in Glendale to launch a movement of this sort, but all have failed. It will be a joke, indeed, if Casa Verdugo beats us to it.

BAZAAR AND DINNER

The busiest people in Glendale just now are the ladies of the First Methodist church, who are making great preparations for the opening of their big bazaar which is to be held Friday and Saturday, November 10 and 11, in the Wilson building, 914 West Broadway. Many beautiful and useful articles have been made by the ladies and donated by their friends and are being tastefully displayed to attract the searcher after Christmas gifts. The great array of handsome articles will truly delight any feminine heart. Not only will the ladies visit this mecca but the women in charge of the affair are making special preparations to attract the sex whose hearts and pockets are both reached through the stomach. One of the famous chicken pie dinners for which these women have won renown will be served on Friday evening from 5 until 8 o'clock. Chicken pie, mashed potatoes with gravy, corn, cranberry sauce, pickles, bread and butter, pumpkin pie and coffee will be served. The proceeds from bazaar and dinner will go toward the building fund of the new church.

MUTUAL BENEFIT CIRCLE

The Mutual Benefit Reading Circle continued the reading of "Studies in Child Development" at its regular meeting, held yesterday morning and afternoon. Topics read and discussed were "The Physical and the Mental Development of the Child from 2 to 7 Years Old." This comprised discussion of the normal and the perfect child, nutrition, classes of foods and their effects, growth, care of eyes, ears and throat, and nervous children.

Twenty-five women were present, including as visitors, Mrs. Lena Blanchard and Mrs. Pearl Minert of Burbank, president and ex-president, respectively, of the Parent-Teacher's Association in that town.

PROSPECTS FOR A LEAGUE FOR PEACE

One of the excellent things that President Wilson has said recently was that the small states of the world have a right to enjoy the same respect for their sovereignty and for their territorial integrity that great and powerful nations expect and insist on. He also said that every nation had a right to choose the sovereignty under which it should live. But above all the thoughts which the president put forth on the occasion when he was speaking before the League to enforce Peace may be put that which expressed the sentiment that the world has a right to be free from every disturbance of its peace that has its origin in aggression and disregard of the rights of the peoples and the nations.

These are memorable utterances and when taken together with what has recently been said on this subject by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, they may be supposed to forecast a move for the enforcement of the peace of the world and the rights of nations after the present war is over.

There is no doubt that under such a system the violation of the neutrality of Luxembourg and of Belgium would have been impossible. The war itself would have been impossible. The world is gradually growing into a sense of solidarity. The nations are more and more beginning to realize that "God has made of one blood all nations" and the sense of world brotherhood is growing up inevitably from day to day.

It is because the nations have not realized their brotherhood that wars have been possible. The world is in a constant state of evolution. In past centuries households were at war. Further on rival cities and rival districts on contiguous territory have been at war. Nations on contiguous territory have been at war.

Gradually cities and districts and adjoining nations have consolidated in groups and the divisions of the world have become fewer. The close of the present war is certain to find the world occupied with a movement to unite in a league for peace all the strong nations that are anxious to see such conditions prevail. Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, is very much in accord with President Wilson on this matter. He recently said that the best work neutrals could do for the present was to try to prevent a war like that now raging from happening again. He expressed the opinion that if the nations had been in such an agreement, and prompt in resolution to insist in 1914 that the dispute must be referred to a conference or to The Hague and that the Belgian treaty must be observed, there would have been no war.

As the United States is the leading neutral nation of the world, it is likely that it will be expected to take the lead in this work. Such a work would be in keeping with its best traditions. It has the necessary standing in the world for such an authoritative position on this matter and it could consolidate all the peace opinion in the world and discover a basis on which such a league could be formed.

There is little doubt that if the nations do not so profit by the lessons of the present war as to form a league for peace there will go on in every nation preparations for another gigantic struggle from which the United States might not easily escape.

READJUSTMENT OF AMERICAN COMMERCE

Not only is the United States the world's greatest producer of mineral wealth but, so far as estimates of the earth's treasures have shown, it possesses greater reserves of most of the essential minerals than any other nation. This vast treasure has in many cases been neglected and in others wasted. One of the direct benefits that the European war has conferred on the United States has been its effect in stirring up the people of the country to realize and to endeavor to utilize the vast mineral resources of the land.

The war has shown this country that it has hitherto been wholly dependent on Germany for dyes while the valuable coal tar products from which those dyes are made have been wasted. Such chemical substances as sulphonal, trional, veronal and other products such as saccharin made from coal tar have hitherto been imported from Germany. Since the war the chemists of the country have been experimenting with success in the manufacture of these dyes and chemicals and under a revised tariff system foreign dyes and chemicals will be shut out altogether or will only be permitted to compete with American products on an equitable basis.

Singular to say the United States has not until now realized that it is independent of foreign countries in the possession of mineral resources essential to the business of the country and that the interference with manufacturing caused by interruption of the flow of importations of many necessary raw materials may be overcome almost wholly by development of neglected resources in this country.

The war has stimulated the production of zinc which formerly had to compete with foreign production. This has sent prospectors into the field for zinc and the United States can not only supply its own needs but should be able to export zinc and galvanized iron products to South American countries, which market has only in part been utilized by American exporters.

Fuel oil has had a great advance in price and demand on account of its use as a fuel for steamships. The oil producers are experiencing a period of comparative prosperity.

The United States mines nearly 40 per cent of the world's output of coal and produced 65 per cent of the world's petroleum in recent years. The value of the mineral production of the United States now is more than $2,500,000,000 a year. No other country can compete with this in the abundance and variety of its mineral resources.

Alaska alone is one of the richest mineral countries in the world. It has only been touched along the fringes of the coast and in one or two spots in the Yukon valley. By the time the railways are in working order great sections of that vast territory of 590,000 square miles will be opened up. It may be expected that this new mineral territory will afford great wealth to the United States.

By the war the country has been awakened up to realize that the United States must be entirely independent of Europe and the rest of the world with regard to every product and that it must cease buying from foreign lands what it can produce itself.

LA CANADA

The speaker secured for the next meeting of the La Canada Improvement association, Saturday evening, November 18, Mr. George H. Maxwell, should be heard by a large gathering of people from this mountain district, as he will present matters of local and of national importance, as to storm protection, reforestation and preparedness. The meeting will be held in the hall of the Valley club of La Canada, and will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Among the many signs of awakening and of progress in this upland country has been the recent federation of civic bodies and improvement associations in La Canada, La Crescenta, Montrose, Sunland and Tujunga. While this new organization has received some notice in public print, it needs to be re-impressed on the minds of our people and there are no doubt those who have not yet learned of its existence.

According to the constitution, its purpose is to provide a medium through which the residents of these places may express their views on subjects of importance to these various districts; to provide methods of united action in promoting public improvements, in securing protection against dangerous and threatening elements, in improving the methods of communication, advertising the resources, opportunities and objects of interest in this district, and to advance the welfare of these communities in every practical way.

The following officers have been chosen: Mr. Ashby, president; Mr. A. C. Cobb, vice-president; Mr. P. H. Johnson of La Canada, secretary; Mr. A. Adams of Sunland, treasurer. The first quarterly meeting will be held Nov. 13, 1916, at Sunland. The new organization should exert a strong influence on community matters and accomplish great good in these growing suburbs of Los Angeles.

The pastor of the church, Dr. Scott, preached an able and interesting sermon last Sunday morning from the text, Exodus 18:21, "Provide out of all the people able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness; and place such over them." Among other things he said:

"National leadership is the thermometer of the temperature of national morals. The character of men elected is the exponent of the character of the men that elect them. Reflexively, the people are not likely to rise above the moral level of the leaders they elect. Lofty moral leadership is the pressing need of the hour.

"Twentieth century civilization has broken down. Rationalism is not a match for municipal selfishness. International hatred defies all human codes of ethics. An epidemic of commercialism is infecting all the nations of the earth; international interests leave no one nation immune to it.

"The peril of boastful power is like the boasting of the Titanic. The claim that the ship was unsinkable proved its ruin among the icebergs.

"Jethro's outline of qualifications for office is not an antiquated one. 'Able men,' men that will draw the tidal wave of reform, not follow in its wake; men that fear God more than they fear the effect of straightforwardness upon their prospects of re-election; men that are so full of the truth that they will be truthful when to be so means swearing to their own hurt; men whose hatred of covetousness will equip them with 'the whip of small cords;' men who are not ashamed to be found adjusting their moral chronometers to the standards of 'the law of righteousness;' men who think it worth while to give a listening ear to Him who 'spoke and it was done,' who 'commanded and it stood fast.'

"This world is a great ear-gallery. If we keep the aural membrane sensitive, we can hear 'the still, small voice;' if we allow it to atrophy, we shall be compelled to listen to the bursting shell and the demoniac's shriek.

"The blazing object lesson of the opening of our brilliantly heralded twentieth century points toward the bloody business of selfishness as more expensive than 'the king's business.'

The sermon was one of special importance because the greatest need of society today is an unselfish minority of men and women who will labor and sacrifice for the public good; who will deal with causes and not confine themselves to the effects; who will search out the primary cause of our social bedlam and set forth the needful remedy; who will not be content to remove a few branches but will lay the axe at the roots of the tree.

Dr. Scott made a very significant statement in saying that "Twentieth century civilization has broken down." This is the general confession of the best intelligence of our time. The great evils which abound on every hand, the poverty, the suffering, the prevalence of disease, the crime, the divisions, the cruel wars, the impositions, the omnipresent exploitation and the chaotic state of society are sufficient evidence. The human race at the present time is in a state of moral decline. Wealth accumulates, but men decay. The great scientist, Alfred Russell Wallace, in his last publication said that society is rotten from top to bottom. Dr. Hillis, pastor of Henry Ward Beecher's church, said of Mr. Wallace recently, "He tells us that man has improved his telescope and spectacles but that he is losing his eyesight; that man is improving his looms but stiffening his fingers; improving his automobiles and his locomotives but losing his legs; improving his foods but losing his digestion. He adds that the modern white slave traffic, orphan asylums and tenement house life in factory towns make a black page in the history of the twentieth century." Why has civilization broken down? A little incident in La Canada explains the whole thing in a nutshell. A man on one occasion was feeding his three pigs and a caller was looking on. The long trough was filled with liquid food adequate for them all. They all had equal rights respecting that food. They should all have had easy access to that necessity of their existence. But one pig was larger and stronger than the other two. With supreme selfishness he placed himself lengthwise in that trough, ate the food to his heart's content and rooted the others away whenever they tried to satisfy their hunger. Now "the great is mirrored in the small." Those pigs were an exact type of what has been going on in human society for ten thousand years. Our method of living together as a human race has been the method of the barnyard and the pig sty.

A selfish, unscrupulous minority has ruled the world from the time of our savage ancestors and will continue to do so until an unselfish minority and the people who co-operate with them are united enough at the ballot box to establish a new social system in place of the old—to reorganize society on the basis of righteousness and good will. Emerson says that "Love as the basis of the state has never been tried." Until it is, all government and civilization will be a miserable caricature and will end in failure and confusion. The most determinative influence for good or ill in human society is exerted by religion. The ultimate cause of the present breakdown appears in a corrupted Christianity which in its original purity was adequate to produce a new and enduring civilization. Says Dr. Frank Crane in the Los Angeles Tribune of Nov. 5, 1916: "The nominal religion of the western world is Christianity, yet the universal sentiment is that it is not practical. It is as if thousands of preachers were expounding every Sunday the value of shoes, millions of people singing and praying once a week about the beauty and utility of shoes, hordes of children taught in Sabbath school about how wonderful shoes are, acres of books written praising shoes and urging the wearing of them—and yet the entire population going barefoot and if a man actually puts on a pair of shoes he is considered a crank." When Joseph Fels and Henry Ford try to do something to realize a bit of altruism they are called asses. We are destroyed by ideals not lived up to."

The wedding of Miss Margaret H. Green and Harry D. Connor will be held at the La Canada church, Saturday evening, November 11, and is to be attended by the near relatives and a few friends of the contracting parties.

A large party of friends called on Burt J. Kirst and bride Wednesday evening and treated them to an old-fashioned charivari. The crowd were well supplied with noise making apparatus and sure brought the young people out. A pleasant evening was spent. All gathered around a large bonfire and roasted wienies and partook of refreshments of all kinds. Several made speeches congratulating the young couple, after which Mrs. Kirst entertained the crowd with music, both vocal and instrumental. The party broke up at a late hour and everybody had a good time.

The Women's Missionary society of the La Canada Congregational church, which meets the third Wednesday of each month, will meet at the parsonage at 3 o'clock, on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 15, 1916. Our pastor's wife, who has traveled extensively, knows many things of interest which add to our meetings. All ladies of the valley are cordially invited to come.

The result of the election in our precinct was as follows: President—Hughes. Supervisor—Packer. Amendment No. 1—Yes. Amendment No. 2—Yes.

Mrs. Schieffelin entertained at dinner Sunday the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham and daughter, Mary; Dr. and Mrs. Glandmason and son, Lloyd, of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Cogger of Wilton place. A delightful dinner was enjoyed and the remainder of the day was spent in the beautiful grounds surrounding Mrs. Schieffelin's home.

Mrs. Ralph Moses of Palm drive entertained Mrs. Williams and mother and Mrs. Carter of Los Angeles, Friday of last week.

Mrs. Charles F. Pate and Mrs. Jay Schieffelin were the honored guests at a luncheon given by Mrs. Parker of Tropic, Friday of last week. A very pleasant time was spent.

Ladies' Aid meets at the church the first Wednesday of each month. Let's get together and do something.

"Politeness to everyone is the mark of a noble mind. To be polite to the poor, the crippled, the old, proves a boy's real chivalry."

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

Glendale foothills is stirred up greatly at present over the proposal to form a civic center in the community for the purpose of throwing open the school to young and old for social and educational gatherings. It has been felt in particular that the young men of the community need a place for meeting for their various societies and clubs. At present they have no place and are at a loss what to do in order to find a fitting setting for their varied activities.

Mrs. F. L. Kurtz presided. There was a good attendance of parents and young men. Principal R. D. White of the intermediate school, Mrs. Hutchinson, president of the Parent-Teacher's Federation of Glendale; Mrs. C. H. Toll, member of school board; Prof. Houdyshel of the high school and others were present.

Principal R. D. White explained to the meeting what must be done to organize a civic center and how it must be under the direction and subject to the rule of the school board.

A. R. Dimick, No. 1000 North Central avenue, made a speech, heartily advocating the movement. A committee was appointed to examine the matter further and report.

Mr. and Mrs. Bettis of Remington street have moved to Stocker street and Mrs. Reeves, Mrs. Bettis' sister, has moved into the adjoining house so that the two families may be together.

Mr. and Mrs. Aagerson, who recently went to Bakersfield to take up their residence in that vicinity, have returned to Glendale foothills which they think more of now that they have experienced the climate of the desert. They have moved back to their own house on Ruth street.

The ladies of the Casa Verdugo M. E. Church are now preparing an entertainment to be given in the Central avenue school in the near future. They will represent a ladies aid meeting of fifty years ago.

BOOST GLENDAL

Glendale business men, Glendale residents and Glendale parents are asked to take a real, practical interest in the efforts made by the Glendale Garden Society to encourage the boys and girls of the community towards all things useful and wholesome. The Birdhouse Contest, for example, should be actively championed by every parent. To encourage one's child in the use of its hands is reasonable; to encourage it in trying for a prize is a wise procedure, for is not life itself a series of trying for prize? Are not the happy people, the successful people, simply those who have succeeded in gaining the best prizes life has to offer? Then, too, in the building of birdhouses, one unconsciously learns the economic value of birds to the country at large, and the boy who has built a home for birds will never desire to be cruel to man's feathered friends.

An appeal to our own civic pride is also made. Glendale is the very first city in the Southwest to start a birdhouse contest—back East, cities such as St. Paul, etc., have been wonton, it won't cost you anything, successful birdhouse exhibitions. Let us all try to boost Glendale, to help those enterprises which arouse the wholesome curiosity, attention or admiration of outsiders, to encourage those things which result in bringing visitors to our city. Invite your own friends out for the birdhouse exhibition; it won't cost you anything. Nothing given by the Glendale Garden Society costs the public anything. All you have to do is to start in and boost in every conceivable way.

NANNO WOODS,
President.

POCKET HANDKERCHIEFS ARE DANGEROUS

Dr. F. Robbins of New York urges in the Medical Record the abolition of the pocket handkerchief, because it is a source of infection long after a person has recovered from certain diseases and even common colds.

The day will come, he says, when the customary cotton cloth will be replaced by the cheap, and clean Japanese paper napkin, which is burned after it has been used. Infants and children are helpless against the rubbing of none-too-clean handkerchiefs over their perspiring and grimy faces.

The public roller towel of the past it is said, was innocuous as compared to the family pocket handkerchief, and bitter experience will drive home the lesson that neglected noses, mouths, and throats are largely, if not exclusively, responsible for the ultimate crippling of the unfortunate victims of disease and ignorance.

Created by A Founder of the Industry

Out of Europe have come some of the greatest ideas in automobile construction. Benjamin Briscoe, one of the founders of the industry in the United States, with his experience of years back of him here, went to Europe to make an automobile of the highest possible class at a price made possible by American manufacturing methods. He employed fourteen of the most noted engineers—German, French, Swiss—and with them, at a cost of half a million dollars, perfected a motor of wonderful power and economy.

BRISCOE $625

FULLY EQUIPPED

THE CAR WITH THE HALF MILLION DOLLAR MOTOR

It's the longest long-stroke motor in this country. It was designed and perfected where gasoline cost more than 50 cents a gallon—hence of necessity built for economy.

The Briscoe Four Twenty-Four is so constructed that a man six feet tall can sit with outstretched legs at the wheel or in the tonneau.

The Briscoe Four Twenty-Four is fully equipped and with all conveniences—you won't have to spend a cent for extra conveniences. They are all built in. It is easy to operate and steer—easier than the automobile you have been accustomed to drive. The slightest foot pressure holds down the brake or clutch pedal.

There is true economy, pride of ownership and happiness of possession in this life masterpiece of Benjamin Briscoe.

Beauty of a $3000 Car

The lines of the Briscoe Four Twenty-Four will remind you of two of the most costly cars built in America today.

If you will favor us by mailing or phoning your name and address, will send you a card that will secure a free demonstration. Write or phone today for your ride in this car with the Half Million Dollar Motor.

TUJUNGA

Miss Ethel Martin of Los Angeles was a guest for the week-end at the Van Batten home on Monte Vista boulevard. Also last Sunday the Misses Florence Christensen and Maud Greer and Messrs. Clarence Christensen and Harold Overton, all of Gardena, were guests of Misses Gertrude and Edna Van Batten for the day.

Last Sunday morning Miss Stella Wieman gave an exceedingly interesting report from the Sunday-school convention, held last week at Pasadena. She told of the plans for class organization, the graded school system and spoke of the fact that the small Sunday-school may fill its place and sometimes may even get ahead of the larger organizations because of promptness and efficiency. For instance, on one occasion no one was present from the larger Sunday-schools at the convention who could preside at the piano and our own little pianist, Miss Bertha Fehr, was called upon to fill the vacancy, which she did with her usual grace and willingness to the satisfaction of the audience and the honor of our school.

First Annual Meeting

Thursday afternoon of last week occurred the first annual meeting of the Ladies Aid Society. Mrs. J. T. Ward of San Ysidro road was the hostess. The decorations were beautifully arranged chrysanthemums and carnations. The program consisted of a reading by Mrs. Hubbard. An original article by Miss Zoe Gilbert, entitled, "Just Among Ourselves;" other readings by Miss Lewis and Mrs. Leo L. Lang. The president, Miss Atkinson, gave a review of the year's work and expressed her thanks to the members for their co-operation, after which Mrs. Wieman, in an appropriate speech, presented to Miss Atkinson an armful of beautiful carnations in behalf of the members and as an expression of their esteem and appreciation of her work for the society. During the social hour the hostess served refreshments and as a surprise presented a birthday cake in honor of the first anniversary of the society. The cake was decorated with carnations, the society's flower, and one candle. There were twenty-five ladies present. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Leo Lang, corner of Haine's Canyon road and Monte Vista boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Hubbard of Stephen's Way went to Los Angeles last Tuesday, where they visited for several days.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Club was held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. An interesting program was presented, which will probably appear in next week's issue of the Tri-City Progress.

Mrs. Hall, who owns the lot north of the club-house, is soon to begin the erection of a house on his place.

Mr. and Mrs. Saegar have purchased the lot north of Miss Rachel Johnson's place on Stephen's Way.

There were 190 votes polled at the school-house in the Glorietta precinct, Tujunga, at the election last Tuesday.

An entertainment by the Danish Musical Club is announced for the evening of November 24. At a later date the band will give a concert.

Recently Mr. P. J. Blake's brother-in-law was a guest at the Blake home on Cedar street. He belongs to the hospital corps and was on his way north.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Miles came from Glendale last Tuesday in order to cast their ballot in their home precinct. Their son, Mr. L. C. Miles, was too far away to reach home and thus he lost his vote.

It is hoped that Mr. and Mrs. Miles will soon find it convenient to return to their home on Sunset boulevard.

Junior Endeavors

The Junior contingent of the Christian Endeavor Society had their first social evening last Monday night at Bolton Hall. Merry games and refreshments were the features of the evening. Twenty-six were present. Mrs. Malona is the superintendent of this society.

Mr. Rockey, the weather man, announced that the last rain was .32 of an inch, making the rainfall so far this season 4.31 inches. The lowest temperature so far is 36 degrees.

A report from Mr. Beaty, representative of the railroad, stated that he is canvassing the district to find how the people regard the idea of a bonus and also the right of way is being carefully considered; which will probably extend from Honolulu avenue with a cut-off at Montrose and follow the contour of the Verdugo hills, ending at Dr. Spate's place, so far as the Tujunga line is concerned.

Three hundred names of owners of land in the Western Empire tract are to be canvassed.

Capt. Hatch was called upon to give a talk on his winter garden. The captain does not consider himself an expert at winter gardening, although at the present time he is getting vegetables and berries from his garden. Miss Brissenden, librarian, announces a number of farm and poultry magazines in the library for free distribution to anyone desiring the same.

The Poultry Club meets next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the school-house.

The French class meets Saturday morning from 9 to 10 for children and from 10 to 11 for adults. Anyone is welcome to join this class, but those wishing to come in should not delay joining as it will hinder the advance of the pupils for new members to be coming in after the class is thoroughly organized. Mrs. Slavinsky is generously giving her time for this work and the people should show their appreciation by prompt response.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Fischer Entertain

Tuesday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. Fischer entertained their friends with a Halloween masquerade dance. Mr. John Curtin, Mrs. Fischer's brother, contributed to the pleasure of the guests by rendering a number of old melodies on the violin. Mrs. Jachan gave an impersonation which was highly appreciated. The guests were masked and the evening was given over to the usual festivities of a masked dance. Delicious refreshments were served by the hosts and an enjoyable time is reported by the guests.

The Maygrove Band attended the "dry" parade held in Los Angeles last Saturday, and did their part with vim and eclat.

Farewell Surprise

A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Mehard met at their home on Stephen's Way last Saturday evening, perpetrating a complete surprise on the Mehards, as an expression of the regard in which they are held in the community. Mr. and Mrs. Mehard are expecting to go this week to Los Angeles to spend the winter. During the evening a cut glass vase filled with rare chrysanthemums was presented to the host in a short speech by Mr. Wieman. Mr. Mehard responded by expressing the thanks of himself and Mrs. Mehard for their token of friendship and esteem given by their friends. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Barkley and Mrs. Lang. Those present, besides Mr. and Mrs. Mehard, were the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Wieman, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barkley, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lang, Mr. and Mrs. Shiras, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ward, Dr. and Mrs. Kearney, Misses Helen Atkinson, Mary Lewis and Lillian Richardson.

Mrs. Charles Thayer of Monte Vista boulevard was a visitor to Los Angeles last Saturday. She was a spectator at the "dry" parade.

At the Booster's Club last Saturday evening the president, Mr. Fred M. Ashby, tendered his resignation, owing to the multiplicity of other duties. No one as yet has been found to fill the vacancy.

LA CRESCENTA

One of the most interesting meetings of the La Crescenta Improvement Association was held on Friday evening, November 3. The young people of the valley being present for the purpose of organizing a band, Mr. Maygrove made some suggestions as to the mode of organizations. Mr. Thompson, Mr. Chambers and Mrs. Leenhouts were selected as a committee to look to the organization of the band. A meeting was called for Thursday evening, November 9, at the La Crescenta school building.

Great interest has been taken in the matter of planting trees along our highways. Mr. A. C. Cobb, president of the association, donated 100 trees, to be selected by a committee of four—Mr. Thompson, Mr. Hauser, Mrs. Clafin and Mrs. Nettleton. The avenue designated to start on was Los Angeles, beginning at Michigan and planting both ways up and down the avenue. The tree planting day is to be decided on later. The La Crescenta Improvement Association is ready for the donation of trees to help complete this important improvement.

Little Lawrence Potter, son of L. A. Potter on Mayfield avenue, has returned from the hospital after an operation of removing tonsils and adenoid growths. Although it is yet difficult for him to eat he is growing better and will soon be well.

machine. The very latest in color scheme was selected and under the artistic eye of its owner the machine soon assumed the appearance of the newest Fiat or Mercer with a bright black body and trimmings of yellow with wheels to conform in color.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bissell are planning a trip East in a short time to visit Mr. Bissell's mother at Grand Rapids, Michigan. Reports received show that the silica mined here is of an equal grade to any found in the State and tests are being made to ascertain the extent of the mine. The stereopticon views at the church were well appreciated last Sunday and a large crowd attended the lecture given in connection with the views.

Mrs. W. E. Guthrie with friends from Los Angeles were visitors at the Irwin home on Wednesday.

A happy surprise party on Miss Virginia Andrews, who is expecting to leave the valley soon, was given Friday evening by the "Camp Fire Girls" and Mrs. Belle Miller, their leader. Nearly all the younger girls of the valley were present and many delightful games were played.

The patrons of the moving picture show in La Crescenta are sorry to learn of the discontinuation of the pictures for the present. Mr. Bissell, who has so kindly lent his assistance in promoting the shows, is leaving in a short time for an extensive tour in the East, so it has been decided that the shows in the auditorium will be postponed until after his return.

With their teachers, Miss Jones and Miss Haugh, as chaperones, the La Crescenta school children of the upper grades enjoyed a merry day's picnic in Dunsmore Canyon on election day.

Mr. A. Wolfe, father of A. E. Wolfe, proprietor of the La Crescenta Drug Store, has arrived from Springfield, Mass., and in the near future will conduct a meat market in the east half of the drug store building.

When interviewed by a Tri-City Progress reporter as to his impression of La Crescenta as a new resident, Mr. Wolfe of the La Crescenta Pharmacy gave the following article:

"As a resident and local merchant of La Crescenta I am more than pleased to state a few facts concerning the prospective future of La Crescenta. First of all I find the people to be of a most congenial manner which seems to match well with the climate and of a spirit which deserves the most of credit. A desire to patronize home industry is shown and with this class of people there can be but one result which I am glad to say is a bright and prosperous future for La Crescenta and its people, located in one of the most beautiful spots in California, and with the best climate to be found in the world."

Among the registrars at the Fairmount Hotel for the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Reid Fulkman of Glendale, Miss Anna W. Dell of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Conroy of Los Angeles, Miss Edith Long, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brooks, Virginia Brooks, of Los Angeles, Miss Dorothea Fouke, Pasadena; Miss Lucile Polsum, Los Angeles; Miss Lucie Bernhard, Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Moore of No. 4809 Elmwood avenue, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Culberson and Miss Mai A. Cooke just returned from a motor trip north. They made a leisurely trip, stopping at all important points in the San Joaquin Valley, visiting friends and relatives in San Francisco and Oakland.

The first of a series of dances given by the Dancing Club of La Crescenta was given Saturday evening in the school auditorium and was a grand success in every way. The cause is a worthy one and everyone in our own valley and also Sunland and La Canada responded most generously. The Woman's Club wishes to purchase a lot for a club house and some of the ladies have taken this means of raising the money. There was a very large attendance and many of the ladies were charmingly gowned. Thirty-five dollars were cleared and there was also a neat little sum realized from the sale of ice cream and soft drinks served by Mr. Lewenstein in the patio. There will be two more dances given, the first Saturday in December and the first Saturday in January. Tickets must be purchased from members and only members may bring guests. If ticket has not been secured for your guest your card with name and guest name must be handed in at the door. Come and help make the next dances as great a success as this one.

THE ART OF PLEASING

Some people seem to regard the art of pleasing as one of the magic arts. They refer to it as if it were incomprehensible. "Isn't it wonderful how he makes friends?" they say of a young man. "He's not good-looking and his manner is rather awkward. Really there isn't an attractive thing about him, and yet people take the strangest fancies to him. You know old Mr. Merritt, the financier? Well he—" And then they begin the story of one of the absolutely unreasonable likings taken by a wealthy old gentleman for the youth in question.

Now these people are mistaken. The art of pleasing is not magic. It has its rules, like any of the other arts. Some make a pleasant impression by talking well, and others by listening with interest and intelligence. A handsome face is no very great advantage, but a cheerful expression is a wonderful help in winning liking. It is not necessary that manners be polished, but courtesy is of the utmost importance. The people who are liked are likable. It does not follow that they have made any deliberate study of the art of pleasing, but they are guided by the laws of that art, even though they follow those laws instinctively. And the people who have hard work making friends, and hard work keeping them who are continually having misunderstandings with somebody, need to study the art of making one's self liked as carefully as they ever studied percentage or spelling or music or painting.—Young People's Weekly.

LINCOLN AND THE MAN ON HORSEBACK

Early references that John Hay made in his diary to General McClellan, says Mr. Thayer in his biography of Lincoln's private secretary, prepare us for McClellan's failure. The entry for November 13, 1862, reads: "I wish here to record what I consider a portent of evil to come. The president, Governor Seward and I went over to McClellan's home to-night. The servant at the door said the general was at the wedding of Colonel Wheaton at General Buell's, and would soon return. We went in, and, after we had waited about an hour, McClellan came in, and, without paying any particular attention to the porter who told him the president was waiting to see him, went up stairs, passing the door of the room where the president and secretary of state were seated. They waited half an hour, and sent once more a servant to tell the general they were there; and the answer came that the general had gone to bed.

"I merely record this unparalleled insolence of epaulets without comment. It is the first indication I have yet seen of the threatened supremacy of the military authorities. Coming home I spoke to the president about the matter, but he seemed not to have noticed it specially, saying it were better at this time not to be making points of etiquette and personal dignity."—Youth's Campaign.

NEW HEAT MEASURER

The latest development in heat measuring is an optical instrument which, while it is placed in operation many feet from the heat source, will measure the temperature with a fine degree of accuracy. According to the Popular Science Monthly, it measures heat at the highest known temperatures.

It is based upon the simple physical law that the intensity of light emitted by a heated body is directly proportional to its temperature.

The optical pyrometer has two semicircular fields of vision, one illuminated by a small electric lamp and the other by the object to be observed. The intensity of the field illuminated by the lamp is adjusted by turning the eyepiece until the line separating the two fields is eliminated, when the corresponding temperature is read directly from the dial. Any workman of ordinary intelligence can read it within ten degrees and it never comes in contact with the heated object.

The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well, and doing well whatever you do without a thought of fame.—Longfellow.

AUTUMN

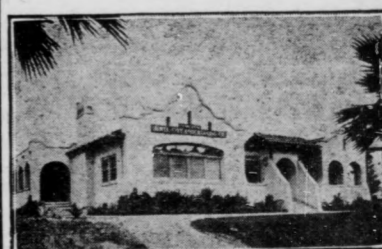

The purple haze comes creeping o'er the hill
And wraps the valley in its warm embrace;
The tiny asters spread themselves like lace
Along the babbling brook that turns the mill.

The gentle air scarce stirs the woodland still,
As, here and there, through some sun-flooded space,
The yellow leaves come fluttering from their place
In vain attempt the quiet vale to fill.

Why do we mourn to see sweet summer die,
When by her dying we such beauty gain
That we must lift our hearts above?
So when our first griefs come should we ask why
To us must fall this bitter lot of pain,
When through such sorrow we find perfect love?
